

VIZIUM Science Centre invites adults to enjoy cocktails and science

VIZIUM Science Centre invites all those interested, who have attained the legal age, to spend the Friday evening in a relaxed and entertaining, yet educational and creative atmosphere by enjoying a science evening for adults Cocktails and Science which will take place on 17 February. The exciting programme will combine science, erudition, and demonstration of bartending skills by brilliant bartenders.

In the course of the evening, the guests will be able to enjoy a wide and diverse programme, which will allow them to visit The Spirits Lab accompanied by bartender Pēteris Repečko, who represents the Balzāmbārs, and Rihards Onzuls, the Jim Beam & Maker's Mark brand Ambassador in the Baltic States. They will also have the opportunity to participate in erudition games, testing their knowledge of various drinks, to play a strategic game, taking up the role of a cocktail, to snap wonderful pictures of this fun get-together with friends, and to win wonderful prizes at the end of the evening. - The erudition game will allow to find out which team knows more about the variety and history of drinks.
- In the course of the evening, the guests will be also able to enjoy the popular party games on a scientific note and to programme robots by creating works of art using their favourite cocktails.
